1. (_ _ _ _ _): An emotionally-advanced, highly sensitive person with a unique ability to understand how another person is feeling. The most psychologically attractive to a Narcissist.
2. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _): Enablers and/or Co-dependents who work for the Narcissist’s tactics against a Target’s decision to go No Contact. The term is inspired by the movie classic The Wizard of Oz.
3. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _): A diversion tactic from a Narcissist which makes the Target question their own sanity.
4. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _): A technique in which the Target limits all their social interaction with the Narcissist to a minimum about ‘as dull as a rock.’ The objective is to deny the Narcissist any supply, despite their attempts to get you to react.
5. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _): The common stage of a Narcissist trying to lure a Target who’s had enough back into the mental web and the unhealthy cycle.
6. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _): The beginning phase where a Narcissist showers an unsuspecting Target with attention, for the fast-paced purposes of trapping them into a toxic relationship.
7. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _): The process of displaying concealed learnings of a Target back to them, to facilitate a soulmate feeling. Usually the first stage of Narcissist luring the rushed trust of a curious Target.
8. (_ _ _ _ _): The psychological sources of admiration for the Ego of a Narcissist, accomplished through the attention and/or identity of an Empath. Because the ‘false self’ is unnatural, their ego is always “starving” for constant re-affirmations against the truth, by any toxic means necessary.
9. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _): The act of strategically inviting another person in a Narcissistic relationship for the purposes of controlling and intimidating the Target.
10. (_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _): A smokescreen of parallel talking to distract and steal seniority from the logic inside a conversation.
